the development of empires in the Fertile Crescent.

ter To Me? The people of Mesopotamia built one of the great civilizations. Even though they lived long lives, their experiences were similar to those of people today. They planted crops, traded for items they needed, and kept records about important events, such as marriages and business transactions.

How Will I Know That I Learned It? I will be able to describe the structure of early societies and contributions those societies made in the arts, science, technology, and government.
