Instructional Coach

What is an Instructional Coach?
The role of an instructional coach is to support teachers with the implementation of Common Core and building capacity in others through modeling, peer coaching, and peer to peer feedback.

What is the work environment?
Instructional Coaches work with a limited number of sites to support accountable communities, as well as side by side teaching at all levels. Schedule is flexible and designed to meet the needs of the assigned school sites. Instructional Coaches will see a variety of teachers teach and see multiple school sites and classrooms, gaining resources and networking along the way.

Professional Learning Opportunities
Instructional Coaches will be challenged with a wide array of professional learning for their own growth as well as have the opportunity to present professional learning to their colleagues.

Additional Opportunities
Instructional Coaches have the opportunity to earn supplemental contracts for curriculum writing, module design, veteran support, and teaching additional classes on Saturdays if interested.

Who do I support?
Instructional Coaches support seasoned teachers, new teachers and some interns in our learning community.

What qualities do I need to have?
Instructional Coaches need to be creative, innovative, and have the desire to want to help people learn and grow in the teaching profession.
